

Birding Holidays

Mongolia is a superb birding destination. The vast Gobi Desert, which covers one third of Mongolia, the endless steppes with lakes, the Khangai mountains and the rich taiga forest – all remote, beautiful, fascinating and full of birds.

It is home to over 440 species of birds which include globally scarce species such as Swan Goose, Pallas's Sandgrouse, White-naped Crane, Altai Snowcock, Oriental Plover, Henderson's Ground Jay and Saxaul Sparrow. Raptors are plentiful in this vast country, with good populations of Lammergeier, Black Vulture, Upland Buzzard and Saker Falcon.

This trip will be more than just birding tour - it will be a true adventures travel. Our birding holiday will take us to ancient Saxaul forests, into the mountains of the Khan Khentii.
